CPCB sets out how bulk consumers register on the ELV portal

MoEFCC · October 28, 2026

The Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB), under the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change, has published an 18-page "Guidance Document for Registration of Bulk Consumers Under EPR Portal for End-of-Life Vehicles (ELVs)". It is listed under Guidelines / SOPs on CPCB's EPR Portal for End-of-Life Vehicles (https://eprelv.cpcb.gov.in). The document carries no number and no date; October 28, 2026 is the date its file was created. It is not a Gazette notification. It explains, step by step, how a bulk consumer signs up on the portal and applies for registration under the Environment Protection (End-of-Life Vehicles) Rules, 2025, which it says were notified on January 6, 2025 and came into force on April 1, 2025.

Under rule 3(1)(c), as the document quotes it, a bulk consumer is a consumer having ownership of more than one hundred vehicles, and includes a State Transport Undertaking as defined in section 2(42) of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988. The document lists its duties under rule 5. A bulk consumer must have its vehicles tested under section 56 of that Act and rule 52 of the Central Motor Vehicles Rules, 1989. It must deposit a vehicle that becomes an end-of-life vehicle at a producer's designated sales outlet, a designated collection center or a Registered Vehicle Scrapping Facility (RVSF) within 180 days, and keep none longer. It must obtain registration on the portal from the State Board, and file an annual return in Form 2 by June 30 for the previous financial year.

Registration has two stages. At sign-up, the applicant chooses Bulk Consumer and enters its 15-character GST number, from which the portal fetches the trade name, legal name and business category, then its PAN, and its TIN and CIN where it has them. It adds an authorized person, who must be an official of the bulk consumer and not a consultant, agent or other agency. The company e-mail and the authorized person's e-mail and mobile number are verified by OTP, and login credentials arrive by e-mail. After logging in, the applicant completes General Details (the GPS location of its premises, its GST certificate and the authorized person's PAN card), Vehicle Details and the Declaration, then submits.

Vehicle Details asks for the number of vehicles owned or possessed, in rows by category, type and fuel, each with a vehicle-wise Excel list in the portal's format giving each vehicle's registration number and fitness validity date. The number reported must be more than 100, or the portal will not let the application be submitted. The Declaration needs an undertaking on the company's letterhead, signed by the authorized person with the company seal, in the format at Annexure-I. Uploaded documents are PDF files of up to 2 MB.

The State Pollution Control Board or Pollution Control Committee processes the application on the portal, may ask for missing information, and may reject an application with false or irrelevant information or documents. On approval it grants a Certificate of Registration, a one-time registration valid until it is suspended or cancelled. After a hearing, it may suspend or cancel a registration for violation or non-compliance of any provision of the rules. Where information given is found false, it shall, after a hearing, suspend or cancel the registration for up to five years, and it may act under the Environment (Protection) Act, 1986. The document sets no deadline to register and says CPCB may update it from time to time.
